Which sequences of operations will take the recorder from its start state to a state in which the motor is running?

Which sequences of operations will take the recorder from its start state to a state in which the head is engaged?