When dealing with information technology, think of is as a tool to help you in your chosen field of study, and consider this as a mantra:

"There is no finish line.
Change happens.
Wear a seat belt. "