THAT THEY APPEAR

*Goodbye Seattle
&
Thanks for everthing*

Just a Few more words:

The inspiration behind this project is because I am leaving Seattle in a few weeks. I have noticed that Seattle has one of the most beautiful sky once I came here, especially during the golden hours. I have seen this for seven years and I will definitely miss this gorgeous sky, so I decided to take this project as part of my memories and each photos relates to different personal feelings in the past seven years. Therefore the ablum name is called "Feel Trips X Sunlight".
