

Defn: For a discrete r.v. X with pmf p ,
the expectation (or expected value or mean)
of X is

$$E[X] = \sum_x xp(x)$$

In the case of equally likely outcomes, this is just the average value. In general, it's a weighted average, each value being weighted by its probability $p(x)$.